Proposals

BY JAMES A. PATTERSON,

For publishing, at Fayetteville, N. C. a weekly Newspaper, entitled

The Fayetteville Sentinel.

The press is a powerful engine to direct and control public sentiment, promote genuine republicanism and extend pure morality. For these objects the subscriber proposes the above publication.
It is intended that this paper shall contain interesting selections from foreign and domestic advices; Commercial Intelligence and every subject connected with Mercantile transactions; Information and instruction for the improvement of Agriculture, that most essential branch of national prosperity; Mechanic Arts and Manufactures will also receive that notice to which they are justly entitled.—Abstracts of the proceedings of our national and state legislatures, public documents, and sketches of such debates as shall tend to elicit, defend and support political truth and justice, shall likewise be inserted
Considering that the Constitution of the United States is the Ark of Political Safety, and that the Washington Policy should be the polar star to every American Statesman, public measures shall be candidly reviewed, and censured or approved according to their course and tendency. Believing that virtuous manners have more efficacy than good laws, and are altogether essential to the very existence of true liberty, that pure system of morality shall only be supported, which is equally removed from the cold formality of monkish superstition, and the varying fashions of a vain philosophy. The cause of Religion shall be advocated without supporting the infallibility of the Bigot, espousing the dogmas of the Sectary, or applauding the licentiousness of the Liberalist. To interest the mind and improve the taste, Original and Selected Literary Essays shall be frequently inserted.
While the Editor solicits the assistance of men of literature and leisure, he assures the public that his constant endeavors will be used to render the Sentinel worthy the confidence and support of a judicious and candid community.
The Sentinel shall be published every Wednesday upon a royal sheet of good quality and with new type.—Terms—Three Dollars per year, payable on the delivery of the first number. Subscribers not residing at Fayetteville, will have their papers forwarded by the first mail after publication, or otherwise as they may direct. Advertisements will be inserted upon the most reasonable terms, and the paper issued as soon as a sufficient subscription is obtained. Holders of subscription papers are requested to return them to the subscriber at Fayetteville, by the 1st day of May next.

Salt Works for Sale.

FOR SALE, a tract of Land on the Sound, comprising 450 acres, on which are 9000 feet of Salt Works, and a neat and commodious Dwelling House, with Out Houses, Barns, &c. The Salt Works require four hands to tend them, and yield an average product of 2600 bushels of Salt. The nearness of this place to the river, (being distant but two miles) renders the transportation of salt, to market, cheap and convenient. The situation enjoys the usual advantages of Sound places, in an abundance of Fish, Oysters, &c. As I am desirous of removing from the state, I will sell the above described property for two-thirds less than cost.
Terms will be accommodating.
JOHN Q. MACNEILL.
Wilmington, Feb. 9, 1825—2-6t.

Blanks, of all kinds,
May be procured at this Office.

Hodges, Speculator, from whom I purchased him. Any person apprehending the said negro, and depositing him in jail, shall receive a reward of twenty dollars, and the sum of five dollars if taken up near home and delivered to me, on Crooked Creek, Marlboro' District, South Carolina.

FROM THE CONNECTICUT JOURNAL.

CHURCH MUSIC.

MR. EDITOR—I love to go to Church, now and then, to pass away an idle hour, to see the new fashions, and particularly to hear the music; and I cannot but remark how wonderfully improved we are of late in church music, especially in the choice of our tunes. You can't tell how delighted I was last Sunday, (as I passed by one of the churches, deliberating whether I should go in or not,) when I heard the organ and choir singing in full glee, one of my favorite old Scotch airs, called "Auld lang syne." Sure, thought I, there is some real fun going on in Church. I'll go in and see what is the matter. I arrived just in time to join in the latter part of the tune; and being animated, I sang out with a pretty loud voice

"We'll tak' a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang syne!"

I found the people near me began to stare, and one of my friends whispered to me that I had not got the words of the tune; I begged his pardon, and assured him that I knew "auld lang syne:" "Shall auld acquaintance be forgot," says I.—But you are mistaken, my friend, if it was "auld lang syne," it has been converted into a Psalm tune lately, and it is now called Rochdale. Converted, says I, I have heard of converting sinners and converting the heathen, but really I never heard of converting tunes before.
Full of "Auld lang syne," I went home and began to think of the matter.—A real good plan, thought I. May it be carried on, and our churches will be really jolly places. I thought there might be other tunes as well as "Auld lang syne," that might be converted, and take christian names, with a little pains; but what was my astonishment, when I found that "Green grow the rushes O!" would go in L. M. without any alteration, (especially if it were christianized by calling it Dragon, in honor of our neighboring town,) and what is of more importance, our old national song of "Yankee Doodle," is fitted exactly to C. M. Many other tunes, such as "John Anderson my Jo John," "Sandy and Jenny," and "The Old Maid's lament," might all become right regular and decently behaved Psalm tunes, with very little discipline. But the advantages of having "Yankee Doodle" thus converted are very great. First:—Every body knows it, and could therefore join in singing it. Second: Every one might put such words as he pleased to the tune, either the hymn, or the original words, and this would be more in accordance with the rights of conscience than making a man sing just such words as the minister chooses. Perhaps some may object to "Yankee Doodle," that if it were sung in church, strangers loitering near the churches, not hearing the words of the Psalm, might mistake the church for a ball room; to this it would be sufficient to answer, not more than if they sung "Auld lang syne." But I have a better answer; is it not obvious, that if these loiterers hear such tunes, they will be induced to go into the church, just where we wish to get them; and that these tunes are like cheese in a mouse trap, to bait these vermin? Again, it may be said, that all our associations with Yankee Doodle are of the light and frivolous kind, and that hearing it in church, would only excite the same kind of feelings, by a natural association of ideas, and that the tune being so merry, and the words of the Psalm so solemn, there would be a disagreeable inconsistency. To the former objection, I answer, that "it is a poor rule that won't work both ways," and if the association of ideas has any thing to do with it, it is just as likely we shall have solemn ideas when we hear Yankee Doodle in a ball room, from having heard it in church, as the contrary. As to the latter objection, I say analogy is against it; we all know that the most delicious beverage called Punch, owes its chief excellence to the union of contraries, of weak and strong and sweet and sour; now I contend that a solemn Psalm sung to Yankee Doodle, is calculated, on this very principle of contrariety, to produce a delightful effect, and the more solemn the word, and the quicker the time of the tune, the more perfect will be this effect.

18th Congress, 2d Session.

IN SENATE.

Monday, February 21.

Mr. Talbot, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill "to extend the Judicial System of the United States, and to provide for three additional Circuit Courts," reported it with amendments.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the Senate then proceeded, as in committee of the whole, (Mr. Mills in the chair,) to the consideration of the bill from the other House "making an appropriation for certain fortifications in the United States for 1825."

The amendments reported by the Committee on Finance were read.

The first was an appropriation of 30,000 dollars, for the erection of a Fort at Beaufort, in North Carolina, and 50,000 dollars for Forts at Cape Fear, in the same state.

A long discussion ensued on this amendment, which was supported by Messrs. Smith, Macon, Branch, Cobb, Hayne, and Johnston, of Lou. on the ground of right and necessity, and the pledge that had been given that the system of fortification, heretofore adopted, should be continued impartially. The appropriation was opposed by Messrs. Dickerson, Lowrie, Holmes, of Me., and Chandler, who argued that there was no necessity for fortifying the two points in question: that the Secretary of War was opposed to it, at present, as there was no Engineer at the disposal of the Government, for the purpose, at this time.

The question was finally decided, by yeas and nays, in the affirmative, 29 to 11.

The next amendment was that making an appropriation of $9,940, for a school of practice for light artillery, at Fortress Monroe; which was agreed to.

The bill, as amended, was then passed to a third reading.

Tuesday, Feb. 22.

The President communicated the memorial of the Legislature of Ohio, requesting a grant of land to aid the operations of that State, in connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river, by means of Canal Navigation; accompanied by resolutions requesting their Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their best exertions to carry into effect the object of the memorial.

Ordered, That it lie on the table, and be printed.

The following Message was received from the President of the United States:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States

I transmit, herewith, a report from the Secretary of War, with a report to him from the Third Auditor, of the settlement, in the amount stated, of the claims of the State of Massachusetts, for services rendered by the Militia of that State, in the late war, the payment of which has hitherto been prevented by causes which are well known to Congress. Having communicated my sentiments on this subject fully, in a message bearing date on the 23d of February, 1824, it is unnecessary to repeat in detail here, what I there advanced.

By recurring to that message, and to the documents referred to in it, it will be seen that the conduct of the Executive of that State, in refusing to place the Militia thereof, at that difficult conjuncture, under the direction of the Executive of the United States, as it was bound to do, by a fair construction of the Constitution, and as the other States did, is the great cause to which the difficulty adverted to, is to be ascribed. It will also be seen, on a view of those documents, that the Executive of the State was warned at the time, if it persevered in the refusal, that the consequences which have followed would be inevitable; that the attitude assumed by the state formed a case which was not contemplated by the existing laws of the United States relating to militia services: that the payment of the claims of the State, for such services, could be provided for by Congress only, and by a special law for the purpose. Having made this communication, while acting in the Department of War, to the Governor of Massachusetts, with the sanction and under the direction of my enlightened and virtuous predecessor, it would be improper, in any view which may be taken of the subject, for me to change the ground then assumed, to withdraw this great question from the consideration of Congress, and to act on it myself.

Had the Executive been in error, it is entitled to censure, making a just allowance for the motive which guided it. If its conduct was correct, the ground then assumed ought to be maintained by it. It belongs to Congress alone, to terminate this distressing incident, on just principles, with a view to the highest interests of our Union.

From the view which I have taken of the subject, I am confirmed in the opinion that Congress should now decide on the claim, and allow to the State such portions thereof as are founded on the principles laid down in the former message. If those principles are correct, as on great consideration I am satisfied they are, it appears to me to be just in itself, and of high importance, that the sums which may be due, in conformity therewith, should no longer be withheld from the State.

JAMES MONROE.

Feb. 21, 1825.

The Senate, as in committee of the whole, resumed the consideration of the bill authorizing the purchase of the Equestrian Portrait of Washington, by Rembrandt Peale.

Mr. Holmes, of Maine, moved to amend the bill by filling the blank with $4,500; which was decided in the affirmative, ayes 20, noes 14.

On the question, "Shall this bill be engrossed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative, by yeas and nays, 21 to 20.

On motion of Mr. Benton, the Senate resumed, as in committee of the whole, the bill for the preservation and civilization of the Indian tribes within the United States.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Wednesday, Feb. 23.

The engrossed bill for the preservation and civilization of the Indian tribes within the United States was read a third time, passed, and sent to the House for concurrence.

The engrossed bill authorizing the purchase of the Equestrian Portrait of Washington, by Rembrandt Peale, was read a third time and passed.

The Senate then, as in committee of the whole, proceeded to the consideration of the bill from the other House for the continuation of the Cumberland Road.

Mr. Brown (Chairman of the Committee on Roads and Canals) made a short speech in support of the bill.

Mr. Cobb moved to postpone the bill indefinitely.

The question was put on the indefinite postponement of the bill, and decided in the negative, 19 to 25.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Saturday, Feb. 19.

On motion of Mr. Webster, the House then went into committee of the whole, on the bill to authorize the payment of interest due to the state of Virginia.

This bill gave rise to an animated and interesting debate, which occupied the House till past 4 o'clock.

The debate turned chiefly on an amendment offered by Mr. Sharpe, of N. Y., which went to strike out the words "state of Virginia," and to insert, in lieu thereof, "the several states," making the provisions of the bill to extend, without distinction, to all the States who had borrowed money for the service of the United States, and paid interest thereon, and whose demand for the principal of their debt had been recognized and paid by the General Government. This amendment was advocated by Messrs. Sharpe, Mercer, P. P. Barbour, Stephenson, Kent, Neale, Wood, Webster, Marvin, Fuller, Mallory, Cook, and Livingston; and opposed by Messrs. Williams of N. C., Whittlesey, McCoy, Floyd, Foot of Con., Tucker, Warfield, Wilde, Bartlett, and Clay.

The question was then put on Mr. Sharpe's amendment, and decided in the negative, ayes 49, noes 96.

The bill was then read throughout by sections and reported to the House.

Mr. Sharpe now renewed his motion to amend the bill, and required that, when the question was taken, it should be taken by Yeas and Nays, which were ordered accordingly:

But, before the question was taken,

The House adjourned.

Monday, Feb. 21.

Mr. Ingham, from a select Committee, to whom was referred the President's message on that subject, made a report on the claims of the President, accompanied by sundry documents; which were laid on the table, and, with the documents, ordered to be printed.

[The report presents documents, without the expression of any opinion by the committee.]

Mr. Ingham also presented sundry documents shewing the disbursement of the furniture fund. Mr. I. moved that a schedule of them be printed.

On motion of Mr. Storrs, the whole were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Ingham further presented documents in relation to the sale of city lots in the city of Washington; which, on motion of Mr. Cocke, were also ordered to be printed.

The House proceeded to ballot for a Printer for the next Congress.

Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, and Mr. Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, were appointed tellers; and, after counting the votes, they reported that the votes given were as follows:

For Gales & Seaton	141
For Hezekiah Niles	40
For Davis & Force	8
For Jonathan Elliot	2
Total number	191

The Speaker then declared Messrs. Gales & Seaton duly appointed Printers to the House of Representatives.

Tuesday, Feb. 22.

The House was engaged, during the greater part of this day, in the consideration of private bills, several of which were ordered to a third reading.

Wednesday, Feb. 23.

On motion of Mr. P. P. Barbour, the House resumed the consideration of the bill providing for the payment of interest to the state of Virginia.

Upon this bill a debate arose, in which Messrs. Wood, Sharpe, P. P. Barbour, Bartlett, Williams of N. C. Forsyth, Neale, Webster, Alexander, Isacks, and Reynolds, took part; when the previous question was required by Mr. Wickliffe, and was decided in the affirmative, by yeas and nays, 88 to 80.

The main question was then put, viz. Shall the bill (without amendment) now be ordered to be engrossed for a third reading? and decided in the affirmative by yeas and nays, 132 votes to 36.

A bill from the Senate, for the preservation and civilivation of the Indian tribes within the United States, was twice read, and referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

A bill from the Senate, to authorise the purchase of an Equestrian Portrait of Gen. Washington, by Rembrandt Peale, was received and read.

Mr. Forsyth moved its indefinite postponement—which motion was carried.

The House then proceeded to consider the Senate's amendments to the appropriation bill for fortifications.

The question being on the first amendment of the Senate, inserting the following:

"For a fort at Beaufort, in N. C. $30,000.

"For forts at Cape Fear, $50,000."

After considerable debate, in which the amendment was opposed by Messrs. Foot, Cocke, and McCoy, and advocated by Messrs. Spaight, Saunders, Mangum, McLane, and Newton, the question was taken on the Senate's amendment, and carried—ayes 82, noes 33.

Extract from the Report of the Members of the Board of Internal Improvement.

WASHINGTON CITY, FEB. 3, 1825.

In execution of the orders of the Secretary of War, communicated in your letter of the 31st May last, "to make a reconnoisance of the country between the waters of the Potomac and the head of steamboat navigation of the Ohio, and between the Ohio and Lake Erie, for the purpose of ascertaining the practicability of a communication between these points, of designating the most suitable route for the same, and of forming plans and estimates, in detail, of the expense of execution," the Board proceeded from the seat of Government, through the portion of country indicated therein. Having deliberately examined every local circumstance on that part of the Alleghany mountain which lies between the head waters of the Potomac and those of the Youghiogany, a branch of the Monongahela, the Board prepared instructions for the preliminary surveys and measurements to be executed by the Topographical Engineers and other officers and gentlemen detached for this service; and having now maturely considered the circumstances observed by them personally, and carefully studied the results of such of these preliminary surveys as are completed, they are decidedly of opinion that this communication is practicable.

The Board, on viewing the country between the Ohio and Lake Erie, along various lines indicated by public opinion, became possessed of such facts as place the practicability of canalling, from the head of steamboat navigation in the Ohio, to Lake Erie, beyond all doubt. The information collected by the Board, is not, however, of a nature to enable them to decide which of the several routes deserves a preference; and a definitive choice can only be made after the several surveys indicated by the extracts from the record of the Board, herewith, shall have been executed.

In further execution of orders, the Board repaired to the State of Massachusetts, and viewed the ground between Buzzard's and Barnstable Bays, where the isthmus of Cape Cod is not only narrow, but so low, compared with the adjacent country, as to have attracted public attention to this improvement, at an early period. Aided by the maps and reports heretofore made of this ground, at the public expense, and by maps and investigations which had been made more recently at private expense, the Board are of opinion this canal might be opened at least as deep as low water, at no extraordinary cost. The tid rising from eight to ten feet on the Barnstable side, this depth of water might be carried through the canal. The locks on the Barnstable side to be protected by a breakwater or pier.

The Board also made a reconnoisance of the ground between Narragansett Bay and Boston harbour—likewise with the advantage of knowing the result of previous surveys, under the authority of the State government, whence they infer, that further investigation may show this communication to be practicable.

In execution of the orders of the Secretary of War, requiring a co-operation with the Canal Commissioners of the State of Pennsylvania, the Board examined the whole route of the proposed canal from the Alleghany to the Schuylkill.

From observations made by the Board along this line, and from surveys and levellings since made by the Pennsylvania Commissioners, the Board are inclined to believe in the possibility of this work; but they think that further investigations are necessary to the definitive settlement of this question.

The co-operation of the Board with the Commissioners of the State of New Jersey, resulted in a strong conviction of the practicability of a canal communication between the Delaware and the Rariton, by leading the water of the former from about 26 miles above the city of Trenton, to the summit ground between Trenton and Brunswick; and that the abundance of the water of the Delaware, will supply a canal of dimensions adapted to the vessels navigating the great rivers and bays of the sea coast. The Board are, however, of opinion, that previous to fixing the exact route of the canal, lines should be run from the vicinity of Bordentown across the summit, to the lowest point on the Rariton, to which a canal can, with due economy, be extended, with a view to avoid as much of the difficult tide navigation of the two rivers as possible.

The Board has the satisfaction to acknowledge the zeal, perseverance, and ability, with which all the officers of the two corps of Engineers, and other gentlemen attached to the service, have fulfilled their duties to the extent which the time and the season of the year permitted. The unfinished parts of their instructioes comprehend the Eastern section of the Ohio and Chesapeake canal, from Cumberland to tide, some lines on the summit, and the whole Western section.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Charleston, February 25.

By the arrival last evening of the brig Sylvester, Healy, in the short passage of 13 days from Carthagena, we have the papers of that place to the 5th inst. inclusive.

They contain the Articles of Capitulation, entered into between the respective commanders of the Liberating and Spanish armies, after the total defeat and discomfiture of the latter; but they are of too great length for our columns, occupying in continuation the principal part of several successive papers.

The paper of the 5th contains the first part of the Message of the Vice-President of Colombia, at the opening of Congress.

Extract of a letter, received by the ship Hannah, at Charleston.

Liverpool, Jan. 11.

We wrote you on the 5th, and have now only to inform you, that the sales of last week were 30,000 bales, at prices fully supporting the advance given of 1d. on the publication of our Stocks—say uplands, 9 a 11½d. for old Cottons, and 8 a 10d. for new. There are none in the market at present worth 11½ except some of Wade Hampton's, and that price has been offered for them. There are 700 bales new Cotton just arrived from Virginia, which are very good, and valued at 11½d. In Sea-Islands, the prices are also fully supported, say 18d to 2s 3d."—Ib.

FROM HAVANA.

Norfolk, Feb. 21.

By the remarkably fast sailing sch'r Princess Ann, Capt. Banks, which arrived here yesterday, in 7 days from Havana, we have received from a friendly correspondent at that place, a file of the "Diario del Gobierno" and "Diario del La Habana" from 11th November to 11th inst. inclusive. A gentleman who obligingly translates for us, reports that the papers do not contain an article of news.

Loss of the Ferret.—Capt. Banks brings the unwelcome intelligence that the U. S. sch'r Ferret, Lt. Comd't Belle, was lost off Point Yacos, about 10th inst. having capsized in a sudden squall, and that eight of her men were drowned in attempting to swim to the shore. Immediately upon receipt of this news, Capt. Warrington dispatched to her relief the Steam Galliot Sea Gull and sch'r Jackall, (late of the West India squadron) which he employed for the occasion. The latter succeeded in taking off the officers and remainder of the crew, and had arrived with them safe at Matanzas.

The day Capt. Banks sailed (12th inst.) the Moro Castle bearing S. S. W. by S. a short distance, he passed very near to a vessel on fire, with both of her masts and the heel of her bowsprit gone, which appeared to have been shot away; ascertained nothing farther respecting her.

FROM KEY WEST.

Norfolk, Feb. 21.

From Captain Anderson, of the Sch'r Æolus, arrived here on Saturday last, from Key West, we learn that the U. S. Sch'r Shark, Lieut. Comd't Gallagher, with Capt. Warrington on board, arrived at that Naval Station about 1st February, and that Commodore Porter would sail for Washington in the U. S. Ship John Adams, as soon as her crew, distributed among the barges and boats then on a cruise after Pirates, could be collected.—The Shark, and Sea Gull, Lieut. Comd't M'Keever, had been despatched to the Coast of Cuba, with orders to send the barges in immediately with the crew of the John Adams. The U. S. schr. Ferret, Lieut. Comd't Paine, sailed on a cruise a few days previous to the departure of the Æolus.

The mortality at Thompson's Island had recently been very great.

The Colombian sch'r General Santander, Capt. Northrup, had arrived at Indian Key, after a cruise of six weeks, during which, Capt. N. stated, he had taken a prize valued at about $40,000.

The Season.—In addition to the many instances we have already published, of the mildness of our winter, we have received from a friend, an Apple, of the second growth, just plucked from a tree in a garden in Wentworth-street. It measures four inches and a half in circumference, and may be seen at our office.—Charleston Courier.

The New-York Gazette of Wednesday states that Mr. Anderson had arrived in the schooner Weymouth, from Carthagena, with important despatches for the American government.

The Secretary of the Navy has recommended the construction of two Dry docks; one to be located at Charlestown, Mass. and the other at Gosport, Va. The probable expense of the construction of both is estimated at about $700,000.

COM. PORTER AND GEN. VIVES.

A friend in the West India Squadron favoured the Editors of the National Intelligencer with the following copy of a letter addressed by Com. PORTER to the Governor of Cuba, on the eve of his departure from that station, with the Governor's reply. The tone of this reply does not indicate an unfavourable impression on the mind of General VIVES, produced by the affair of Faxardo, which must have been well known to him at the time of writing the reply:

U. S. STEAM GALLIOT SEA GULL,
Havannah, January 20th.

Your Excellency: Expecting soon to return to the United States, and intending to retire from the command of the United States' vessels on this station, I embrace this opportunity to offer to your Excellency, on the part of my Government, my sincere thanks for the many facilities and accommodation, the good understanding, and co-operation, I have found, through your means, among the authorities on every part of the coast of Cuba, in effecting the suppression of Piracy, and in bringing to punishment those enemies of the human race who have so long infested those seas.

Permit me, also, on my own part, to express to you the satisfaction I have experienced in acting in conjunction with the authorities of Cuba, to effect this common object, and to offer to your Excellency assurances of the highest respect and consideration.

I have the honor to be, your Excellency's very obt. servant,

D. PORTER.

To His Excellency Don Dinisio Vives, Captain General of the Island of Cuba, &c.

Havanna, 23d January, 1825.

I have been very much gratified at the reception of your favor of the 20th, thanking me, in the name of your Government, for the assistance, good understanding, and co-operation, that you have met with on the part of the local authorities of this Island, in giving aid to the suppression of Piracy, by means of my orders for bringing to condign punishment the enemies of every civilized nation.

As a principle which governs me, and at the same time, as a duty which I owe to the reiterated orders of my Government, which are in strict accordance with the laws of nature, and the rights of nations, I have not ceased, nor will I cease, to fulfil every order on so important a subject, as far as depends on my ability.

I regret, very sensibly, that you are about to retire from the command of the United States' forces in these seas, not only for the able manner in which you have discharged the important duties which have been confided to you, but from the just considerations with which you have always respected the territorial rights of the Island of Cuba. Permit me, Sir, to offer you my acknowledgments, and to avail myself of this occasion to confirm the assurance of my high consideration and esteem. I preserve you many years. D. VIVES.

To Com. David Porter.

The result of the Presidential Election was first communicated to the venerable John Adams, by J. J. Jerome, of Boston, who repaired to Quincy immediately on the arrival of the mail. We understand the pleasing intelligence produced no extraordinary excitement on the mind of the venerated statesman, but was received by him with grateful feelings, with that dignity and composure which have so eminently marked his demeanor in his retirement. It affords us pleasure to be able to add, that, though subject to the pressure of cold, his health is comparatively good, his mind yet strong, and his conversation perspicuous.—Boston Patriot.

One of the most uncommon circumstances of the late Election of a President by the House of Representatives, was the fact that, of the 213 Members composing the House of Representatives, every one was present on the ground. One of them, indeed, was not in a condition of health to attend the House, but he was the only one in ill health. The ages of the Members of the House of Representatives average probably 50 years. Here, then, are 212 persons indiscriminately selected, as far as their physical condition is concerned, all of the middle age except three or four selected two years old, who are in the full enjoyment of health and capacity for public business. This is much for the general salubrity of the various climates of our extensive country.—Nat. Gaz.

A paragraph in the Philadelphia Gazette says, that "the knowing-ones had received intelligence, by half past eight o'clock on Thursday evening, of the result of the Presidential Election; and that, by keeping to themselves, they turned it to excellent account. One man is said to have lost two thousand dollars by betting."

We have learnt that General Armstrong, formely minister in France, and afterwards Secretary of War, is engaged in writing a History of the Revolutionary contest. He is well qualified for this task, both as an actor in that contest and a skilful writer. The light in which he may view some characters and events will not, perhaps, be satisfactory as the texture of his book.—Nat. Gaz.

It is said that Mr. Cooper, the celebrated novelist, has undertaken a History of the American Navy. His "Pilot" proves his peculiar fitness for this enterprize. A complete, well digested history is much wanted. It may be endued with the interest of romance without a deviation from facts or extravagant colouring.—Ib.

The election for Printers to the House of Representatives of the United States, which took place on the 21st ult. has resulted in a manner not less honorable to the members of that body, than to the respectable gentlemen who have heretofore discharged so uprightly the duties of that office. After the firm and dignified stand which Messrs. Gales & Seaton took in favor of Mr. Crawford, and the personal controversy into which they were drawn with one of the Candidates, it was to have been expected that there would be strong opposition to their re-election. But what do we see? Messrs. Gales & Seaton were nominated by a warm friend of Mr. Adams, (Mr. Webster,) voted for by the friends of all the late Candidates for the Presidency, and elected almost unanimously. How trifling must be the excitement occasioned by the late Presidential contest, when its influence is not to be discovered in so important an election as that of Printers to the House of Representatives!

"Taking time by the forelock."—Gen. Jackson has been nominated, by a writer in a Baltimore paper, as a candidate for the Presidency, for four years, from the 4th of March, 1829.

The Editor of the National Journal has been nominated, (by himself) as a fit person to discharge the duties of Printer to the House of Representatives of the U. S. for two years, from the 1st Monday in December, 1827.

Virginia and North Carolina Conference.—The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Ministers of Virginia and North Carolina, commenced on the 24th ult. at Oxford.

Washington City, Feb. 24.

GENERAL LAFAYETTE, with his Son, and Secretary, sat out last evening on his tour through the Southern and Western States. He left here in the steam-boat Potomac, for Norfolk, whence he will proceed through the Carolinas, Georgia, and Alabama, to New Orleans; thence, up the Mississippi, as far as St. Louis, visiting the Seats of Government of the States on its banks; then those of the Western and Northwestern States, and returning to the Atlantic via Pittsburg, &c. Being under an engagement to be at Boston on the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker's Hill, which is the 17th of June, the General has a journey before him of about five thousand miles, to be performed in something less than four months. The greater part of the vast and fertile regions which he is about to visit—now teeming with population, and abounding in all the arts and comforts of civilization—has been reclaimed from the savage and the wilderness since Lafayette left our shores for his own country.—His eye will dwell with delight on the uninterrupted prospect of plenty and happiness which will every where greet his sight; and he will exult while he sees all these blessings crowned with the enjoyment of institutions so dear to his generous heart.—Nat. Int.

Norfolk, Feb. 25.—General Lafayette, his Son, Mr. Geo. Washington Lafayette, and Mr. Le Vasseur, his Secretary, arrived here, from Washington, in the Steam Boat Potomac, at 1 o'clock this morning, and we learn will leave here to-day at 11 o'clock, on his Southern Tour.

The elegant and spirited troop of Cavalry, from Mecklenburg, commanded by Colonel Thomas Polk, arrived in this City yesterday. They were met beyond the limits of the town and escorted down Fayetteville street, to the Government House, by the Raleigh Blues, where they were received and addressed by his Excellency Gov. Burton.—Raleigh Register 1st inst.

Cotton.—This article, notwithstanding it has been brought in during the last three weeks in very large quantities, still commands the best prices. A prime parcel sold on yesterday for 18¾.—Pet. Int.

Gen. WILLIAM MARKS, President of the Senate of Pennsylvania, was, on Friday week, elected, by the Legislature of that State, to be Senator in the Congress of the United States, for six years from and after the 3d of March next. The vote on the last ballot was, for Gen. MARKS 73, Mr. BURNSIDE 17, Mr. SERGEANT 19, Mr. INGHAM 2.

The Governor of Connecticut has appointed the Hon. James Lanman to be a Senator of that State in the Senate of the United States, from the 3d of March next, when his present term of service will expire, until the next meeting of the Legislature.

In Maryland, resolutions approving of the administration of James Monroe, President of the United States, have passed the House of Delegates by a vote of 52 to 9.—One of the objectors stated his only objection to be the principle of legislation on which resolutions of this description are founded.

A bill has passed both houses of the Legislature of New York, providing for the choice of Presidential Electors by districts. It passed the Senate unanimously, and the House with but four negative votes. We trust that before the recurrence of another Presidential election, the choice of Electors on the district principle will become uniform throughout the different states.

Raleigh Register.

Dinner to Com. Rodgers.—The citizens of Norfolk and Portsmouth, on the 18th ult. testified their respect for this meritorious officer, by a public Dinner, previous to his departure in the North Carolina, 74, (his flag ship) to assume the command of the United States' Naval forces in the Mediterranean.

Exhibition of Manufactures.—The Rotundo of the Capitol yesterday presented a very interesting subject of examination and reflection to the Members of Congress, and all other persons at the Seat of Government, in the samples of the Manufactures of the United States, which were presented there for exhibition. It is not our intention, at present, to attempt to give an account of the articles exhibited. It is sufficient, for the present, to say, that the manufactured articles exhibit a state of perfection, far beyond the general knowledge or belief, and worthy of all praise. The articles were all so excellent, that it would be difficult to say which were most admired; the woollen cloths, flannels, blankets, and iron-work, such as coal grates, &c. seemed to attract the most general attention.

Nat. Int. 23d.

From India.—The British ship Jane, Capt. Maitland, has arrived at New York from Calcutta, and has furnished intelligence from that place to the 1st of September.—When Capt. M. sailed, it was the prevailing opinion that the Burmese war had nearly terminated.

Benevolence.—Nine hundred pounds were lately subscribed at Shrewsbury, in England, to build a kennel and stable for the Shropshire hounds—Sixty-six pounds were subscribed at the same place, for the sufferers in the explosion of the steam engine of the Manchester Manufactory! "Look on this picture, and then on that!"

Columbia Journal.

The London Traveller of the 5th ult. says—"It is currently reported in this city, that the recognition of the South American States, by Great Britain, is to be immediately followed by a similar acknowledgment of their independence by France. From the avowed determination of the French government to concur in the general policy of England, it may be inferred that the decision of the British government on a point so important to the preservation of tranquility in Europe, has not been taken without the concurrence of at least the great commercial powers. The die is now cast, and Old Spain may henceforth be considered as irrevocably separated from her South American Colonies."

MARRIED,

On Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Morrison, Mr. James Johnson to Miss Mary Ann O'Quin, all of this place.

DIED,

Very suddenly, in Hillsborough, a few days since, Mrs. ELIZABETH HEARTT, consort of Mr. Dennis Heartt, Editor of the Hillsborough Recorder.

In the vicinity of Raleigh, on the 28th ult. after a short attack of sickness, Dr. Jeremiah Battle, a man of considerable eminence in his profession, and universally respected for his liberality, and kind and benevolent deportment.

On the 2d ult. at his house in Quebec, Henry Blackstone, Esq. (eldest son of the late Sir W. Blackstone, the distinguished Commentator on the Laws of England) for many years his Majesty's Coroner for the district of Quebec.

POETRY.

FROM THE CHARLESTON COURIER.

THE BROKEN HEART.

There is a flower that scorns to shed
Its bloom where every eye may rove,
It coldly seeks some lonely bed,
And wastes the perfume all must love.

That flower, though cold it seems to all,
Yet once, 'tis said, in earlier hours,
Ere hapless man had learned to fall,
It was the brightest, best of flowers.

Then why so lonely should it be?
Why bloom to waste that bloom away?
And not resort to youth and glee,
As other flowers? why not as gay?

Why, cold and sullen, on yon height,
Thus live in sadness all alone?
Or, only seem to smile at night,
When genial gloom is round it thrown?

Though cold and lone, that flower feels more
Than all that dwell in bowers of art;
By unrequited feeling tore,
The emblem of the broken heart.

Valuable Lands & Mills for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale, 12,000 acres of Land, on Lower Little River, in Cumberland county, on which there are about 150 or 200 acres of valuable Swamp Land: a part of it is cleared and produces good hay, the rest abounds with reeds, and would winter a large stock of cattle, and could be enclosed at a small expense. The remainder of the land is covered with the best pine for lumber, &c. There are on the above lands two Saw-Mills, with two saws in each frame; both of which have been lately re-built, and are in the best order. There is a good bridge over the river at the mills. Also, some cleared ground, under good fence; a handsome garden; and the necessary buildings for carrying on the business. Oxen, timber, wheels, and the necessary tools, may be had with the mills.

Also, 1000 acres on Upper Little River, in Moore county, known by the name of the Garter Place, which is well known to be one of the most valuable tracts of land in that part of the country. It lies well, abounds with excellent springs, and a mill site within fifty yards of the houses. The whole of it either good bottom or cotton land of a superior quality. It has a good orchard, and a large quantity of open land.

Also, one lot and the building thereon, situated in the town of Fayetteville, on Green street, lately occupied by Mr. Joseph Baker; and also, one lot situated on Person street, at the foot of the hill towards Campbelton.

I deem it unnecessary to be more minute in describing the above property. The Mills, Lands, &c on Lower Little River will, in my absence, be shown to those who may wish to purchase, by Mr. Angus Kelly, who lives in the neighborhood. The lots in Fayetteville, by Mr. Duncan Thompson, and the lands in Moore county, by myself. I will sell all or any part of the above property very low, for cash, or on a liberal credit. 392tf
